With the growth of the City of Reedsburg, its Police Department faced a space shortage and the existing footprint of their facility no longer met all of their operational needs. The City of Reedsburg approached ADCI to design an addition to the existing building to accommodate a new vehicle storage garage and armory and a vehicle impound processing area.

The project consisted of an 8,000 SF addition to the existing Reedsburg Police Department to accommodate a new vehicle storage garage and armory and vehicle impound processing area. It also included a 2,500 SF renovation of the existing office and garage areas to accommodate a new detective bullpen office suite.

Vierbicher provided civil engineering and landscape architecture services for this project.
